Sixteen More Jap Ships Sunk By U. S. Submarines

Navy Reports Results Of U. S. Sub Campaign

Sixteen More Japanese Merchant Ships Are Sunk In South Pacific Area

JAP SUPPLY LINE HAZARDS GROWING

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 9.—The navy department announced today that United States submarines, pressing a vigorous campaign against enemy supply lines in the Pacific, have sunk 16 additional Japanese merchant ships.

The new successes of the submarine fleet increased to 627 the total number of Japanese warships and merchant vessels sunk or damaged by American submarine action since the beginning of the war.

The latest bag was listed in a navy department communiqué as follows:

Ships Sunk

One small cargo vessel.

Nine medium-sized cargo vessels.

Two medium-sized transports.

Two medium-sized cargo transports.

One large tanker.

One large cargo transport.

Although navy communiques have listed 627 Japanese ships sunk or damaged by U. S. submarines, the total number of enemy ships actually accounted for in the Pacific is much larger than this as the navy no longer announces ships damaged as a result of submarine attacks.

Over 1000 Ships Hit

Of the total, 477 ships have been sunk, 36 probably sunk and 114 are officially listed as damaged. The total number of Japanese ships sunk or damaged by American armed forces since the beginning of the war now stands at 1,089, of which 1,065 have been sunk.

Today's communiqué, announcing the destruction of the 16 additional ships, did not reveal exactly where the attacks were made, merely stating that the sinkings were the result of operations in the "Pacific and far east."

Navy officials, however, have disclosed that the submarines have been preying with unusual success on Japanese supply ships bound for Truk and other enemy bases in the central and south Pacific, in addition to operating in Japanese home waters.

Abandon Program

The departure of the army cadet group is in line with the war department's decision to abandon most of its college training program with the exception of advanced technical training in certain specialized fields.

No college students were on hand to bid farewell to the soldiers who in the past seven months have become as much a part of the college community as regular civilian students. Westminster co-eds and colleagues are at home this week enjoying their annual spring vacation.

There was no indication when civilian students left last Saturday that the army unit would leave this week.

No Large Scale Ground Activity On Italian Front

American Troops Hurl Back
Two Small Attacks Against Postion Below Rome

ALLIED AIRFORCE POUNDS NAZI BASES

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

NAPLES, Mar. 9.—American troops, fighting on a battlefield made soggy by snows, have hurled back two small German attacks against their beachhead positions below Rome, Gen. Sir Henry Maitland Wilson's headquarters announced today.

Allied patrols were active on all three Italian fronts, from the Adriatic to the Tyrrhenian, but there was no large scale ground activity.

Shipping Attacks

The active Mediterranean Airforce, however, carried out shipping sweeps into both seas, pounded German supply ports and bases along the west coast and smashed at the enemy's bomb-battered communications lines.

The vital rail yards at Orte, 25 miles north of Rome and the shipyards at San Stefano, were hammered anew by medium bombers, while Nazi positions below the "eternal city" were hit hard.

German aircraft also were active over the beachhead, unleashing anti-personnel bombs against the Fifth Army positions.

Patrols exchange harassing fire but there were no decisive actions other than the two Nazi attacks southeast of Carrocceto which U. S. troops stopped cold.

German Spotted

Last Night—Special Train

NEW WILMINGTON, Mar. 9.—Seven months after its arrival on the campus, Westminster College's 324th Service Unit of the Army Specialized Training Program departed for an undisclosed destination. The cadet company left New Westminster last night on a special train from the local station.

It was the second time in 12 years that a passenger train has arrived here on the little-used tracks of the Sharpsville branch of the Pennsylvania railroad. The other occasion was last August when the ASTP cadets came to Westminster from Virginia.

Nazis Attempt Convoy Attack

ALGIERS, Mar. 9.—(INS)—Between 50 and 60 German planes were officially revealed today to have carried out a strong attack against an Allied convoy off North Africa, but speedy interception averted damage to the ships.

The first wave of Nazi fighters was intercepted by French pilots flying Aircobras, who shot down one Junkers 88. Later RAF Beaufighters joined the aerial battle and shot down four more of the enemy aircraft and damaged three.

Two of the Allied planes were lost. An official announcement said there was no damage to the convoy.

Violent Tank Battles Develop On Red Front

German Counter Attacks In Ukraine Paced By As Many As 100 Tanks

RUSSIAN USE SLEDS TO BEAT MUD BARRIER

By NATALIA RENE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, Mar. 9.—Violent tank battles, with German counter-attacks paced by as many as 100 tanks on a single sector, raged today on the inner approaches to the key Odessa-Lwow railroad junctions of Tarnopol and Prokurov.

With Russian forces within six miles of Tarnopol and barely seven miles from Prokurov, Nazi Field Marshal Fritz Von Manstein transferred large tank and infantry reserves from other fronts. The hastily-assembled German reserves staged "numerous" counter-thrusts, all of which were repulsed by Soviet armed units.

Overrun Towns

The Red army overran more than 100 additional Ukrainian towns and villages yesterday in its drive over the mud and slush-choked terrain toward the Rumanian frontier. Among the communities seized was Cherniostrov, 11 miles northwest of Prokurov.

Cherniostrov was taken, according to the midnight Russian communiqué, by a "swift blow" which "routed" two German infantry regiments. In the fighting for this town, described officially as "an important district center," the Soviet troops captured "a large quantity of booty."

Retreating under the blows of the Soviet units, added the bulletin, the Germans are abandoning tanks, guns and motor vehicles bogged in the mud.

While the enemy was unable to cope with the hazards added to their plight by the soggy terrain the Russians swept over the quagmires of mud astide sleds drawn by

Youngest War Hero Is Home

Technical Sergeant Louis Dale Kline Tells Kiwanians
Of His Experiences

REALLY SCARED ON FIRST MISSION

Tsch. Sgt. Louis Dale Kline, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis E. Kline of 1314 Pennsylvania Avenue, New Castle's youngest war hero, thrilled members of the Kiwanis Club at their noon luncheon meeting, when he recounted some of his experiences over Europe as a member of the 8th Air Squadron, serving as engineer and turret gunner on a Flying Fortress.

Sgt. Kline, just turned nineteen, completed 25 missions against the Germans over France, Norway, and Italy, last October, and has just recently returned to his home here for a well deserved furlough and rest. He has been in service for three years enlisting at sixteen, flying just a little about his age when he was accepted, but his six feet of height made him look the part and the recruiting sergeant didn't argue, especially when his mother gave her consent to his enlisting.

Hard Battle

In recounting his first flight, that against the submarine pens at St. Nazaire, Sgt. Kline says he was really scared, and probably had no idea what was in store, he might have been more so, as his squadrons got the worst man-handled.

Morell was convicted of manslaughter in the death of Wilson's wife, Helen, 48. Janice had been accused in the slayings of Mrs. Katherine Wilson, 78, her employer's mother, and Robert McKay, 70, a worker on the Wilson farm.

Wilson's hearing on contempt-of-court charges was continued until March 20. The girl still faces possible charges of being an accessory after the fact in the killings although District Attorney Edwin C. Moon said he was "undecided" on whether she was guilty.

At the same time the jury indicted Wilson on seven counts as an abounding witness for failure to appear before the December grand jury and at the trial of William A. Morell, 20-year-old parolee, who fled with the girl after the killings.

Oil Sources Must Be Sought Outside U.S., Asserts Knox

By FRANK B. ALLEN
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 9.—Navy Secretary Frank Knox declared today this nation must "look about for oil sources outside the United States" in order to preserve its post-war security.

"There is a question mark whether we would permit a single barrel of oil to be exported after the war," Knox asserted.

Knox made his statement to the house foreign affairs committee after calling for extension of lend-lease under study by the committee.

He defended the Persian gulf pipeline project as being a step "to ease the draft on western hemisphere oil supplies" and denied that the government has any desire to get into the oil business.

"Oil in the ground is the best security we can have for postwar operations of the army and navy," Knox declared.

Reporting successes in combating the Nazi undersea raiders, Knox warned, nevertheless, that "our enemies still have a very large number of submarines remaining" and said that new forays are a constant threat.

Fire Rages Into Fourth Day At Rockaway, N. J.

ROCKAWAY, N. J., March 9.—(INS)—A fire that broke out early Monday morning raged into its fourth day today in a vast supply of lend-lease blankets and shoes stored here for shipment abroad.

More than 72 hours of fire-fighting have witnessed these efforts by fire departments of half a dozen communities, working in shifts involving two hundred firemen.

Three of four Rockaway fire chiefs who rotated in directing the fight have been sent to the hospital.

Col. Speer Reported As Nazi Prisoner

LONDON, March 9.—(INS)—Col. William Ernest Speer, a member of Maj.-Gen. James Doolittle's aerial staff, was reported today to be a prisoner of the Germans, taken after he had baled out of his crippled plane following Monday's daylight attack on Berlin. A Reuter's dispatch from Stockholm quoted the Aftonbladet as reporting Speer's capture.

CLAIM WAKE BOMBED

NEW YORK, March 9.—(INS)—The Japanese Domei Agency said today that American planes attacked Wake Island, but claimed that one of four Grumman bombers was shot down.

tractors. Their rapid advance along a 130-mile front enlarged the breach in the Odessa-Lwow railroad; it also rendered imminent the fall of Proskurov, which still allows the Nazis limited use of the key railway as well as egress from a forming trap south of Starokonstantinov.

Fierce Fighting

"Particularly fierce fighting" developed within the outskirts of Starokonstantinov, described as "one of the most important bases for enemy troops." Lying south of captured Shepetovka, this railroad junction is the root of the German defenses between Proskurov and Volosovts.

The Red army battered its way into the Starokonstantinov suburbs despite enemy efforts to hold the town "at any cost." Flanking operations, knifing the Nazi defenders into tiny groups, permitted the Soviets to "annihilate" the pocketed Germans.

Approximately 3,000 Nazi soldiers died in the fight for Starokonstantinov yesterday, as 25 tanks and mobile guns were destroyed. When the Germans threw 100 armored units into a single counter-thrust, Soviet tankmen and artillerymen knocked out 42—nearly half—the attacking "Panzerz."

Soviet artillerymen inflicted "devastating losses" on Germans seeking to regain lost positions in the Narva region of northern Estonia. Russian airmen hammered enemy concentrations, destroying 43 Nazi planes both in combat and on frontline airstrikes.

New Air Sweeps

While ground troops pressed ahead on several fronts, Lt. Gen. George C. Kenney's hard-hitting Fifth Air Force also carried out new sweeps, including the daily attack on Rabaul, where 55 tons of bombs were unloaded on the once-powerful fortress.

Lakunai and Tobera airfields were the chief targets, and large fires were started, while two barges were sunk and eight other surface craft damaged in the area.

The Kavieng airfields, on New Ireland, were battered with 62 tons of bombs.

Simultaneously, a series of raids, such as those on Wake and Marcus, and on islands of the Marshalls and Gilberts, kept the Japanese harried and on their toes. Then came the Midway battle, that ended forever the threat of further offensive penetration eastward by Japan's fleet.

UNITED STATES BECOMES THE GIANT

WHEN the history of this conflict is written the decisive factor will be found to have been the United States as the source of and the deliverer of fighting armies and supplies.

The scope of America's activities are astonishing. Certainly no one believed it to be possible—not Hitler, nor Mussolini nor the Jap warlords. Britain's chief hope of victory was in America as an arsenal, but even Britain had no conception of the volume that arsenal would pour out. Britain has quite an arsenal of its own, but the margin created by America's contribution was needed to create the present promising military position.

In addition to aid to Britain, the United States has sent billions of dollars' worth of weapons, vehicles and supplies to Russia. This nation has assisted in arming Free France. American ships and supplies are lend-leased to many of Europe's governments-in-exile.

Supplying of the British offensive, now generating great power, is almost wholly up to America. Australia has made contribution in accordance with its capacity. But Uncle Sam has launched a winning war against Japan with little assistance.

The United States has become the giant among military nations, envied by many, feared by others, but committed by word and deed to a world order that will permit every nation to advance itself according to its own ability, without fear of molestation.

FILLING THE COFFERS

How the withholding tax on incomes is working out is shown in the report of the Collector of Internal Revenue for the 12th district, with headquarters at Scranton.

Collections of income tax in the whole calendar year 1941 totalled $32,602,000. Withholding tax for the three months ending last September 30 totalled $33,176,000. And the tax had yet to be paid on income from sources other than wages and salaries.

Income tax collections, aside from the withholding tax, during 1943 were more than double those of 1942; eight times greater than 1941, and twenty times those of 1940.

The individual taxpayer is doing mighty well toward filling Uncle Sam's coffers, but ironically enough, his larger income tax contributions aren't reckoned in the cost-of-living indexes.—Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

WHEN HUNGER HITS REICH

In the field of military operations and in diplomacy Hitler and his associates have made their share of major blunders, some of which are now contributing to the final disaster. But in feeding his 80,000,000 people, his armies and the soldiers of his satellites, Hitler has been singularly successful even after four and one-half years of warfare, the last phase of which has been distinguished by an unvarying succession of defeats.

His achievement reflects the shrewdness and resourcefulness of his planning. With the failure of the Russian campaign, which for nearly a year has been sending German settlers scurrying from farms back to the Reich, Germany will not this year receive this valuable contribution to the nation's food stocks. Production at home and in conquered lands also is declining, with the result that now for the first time since the war began, the German people are beginning to feel the pangs of hunger.

Absence of this experience, so familiar to the Poles, the Dutch, the Czechs and millions of others now living under the Nazi heel, is a factor that has played its part in sustaining the German spirit.

BRITAIN'S FIGHT

With American warplanes in Europe now drawing ahead of Britain's and with American infantry forces scheduled to exceed Britain's when the climax in the war against Hitler is reached, the English are recounting their sacrifices which have succeeded in holding Germany to date and which, in conjunction with America and Russia, will bring victory.

Since the beginning of the war the Royal Navy has lost 95 ships and 41,000 men in clearing the seas of the Nazis and neutralizing the U-boat threat. A fifth of Britain's merchant seamen have gone down. Most of Hitler's surface raiders and U-boats have been sunk by the Royal Navy.

In carrying the war to Germany the Royal Air Force has lost 48,700 men and 10,400 planes. The British army, recruited from England, Scotland and Wales, has fought on many fronts and has suffered heavy losses.

It is a splendid reckoning, worthy of Winston Churchill's early charge to his countrymen to fight to the death. Britain has been fighting in that spirit and the outcome for the nation is to be not death but life.

LACK OF SHIPS HURTS THE JAPS

Admiral Nimitz placed his finger on what may be the controlling factor in the Pacific war, Japanese lack of shipping. In so doing, he paid a well-deserved tribute to our submarines, which are largely responsible for that enemy lack, having destroyed 611 of his vessels thus far.

The resultant shortage of tankers and cargo carriers has hindered supply and reinforcement of outer bases in the Gilberts, the Marshalls and the Solomons-New Guinea sector, as well as in the briefly held Aleutians. Withdrawal of major fleet units from Truk is believed due in great measure to Jap inability to keep that base supplied with fuel.

Admiral Nimitz' announcement of American occupation of the Majuro atoll in the Eastern Marshalls points up the current supply embarrassment from which the Japs are suffering. Majuro lies between Mill and Maloclap, two of the Marshall bases which the Japs still hold and which Nimitz by-passed in invading Kwajalein and Enewetak. These and other islets have been isolated by American action and without supplies their garrisons are withering under repeated bombardments. Occupation of nearby Majuro will advance this particular job of extermination.

Meanwhile, Admiral Nimitz declares that "we've enough stuff in the Pacific now to meet the Japanese fleet at any time." That is not bringing it. It is confirmed by the day-by-day communiques. Those grim days of defensive warfare in the Pacific are ended.

Washington Calling

By MARQUIS CHILDS

Split Precipitated

WASHINGTON, March 9.—The headline says: "Americans may split on Argentina." That is a little behind the fact. The split has occurred. It may be mended but, temporarily anyway, the damage is done.

What finally precipitated it was Chile. The importance of Chile's recognition of the regime of General Farrell has been overlooked.

Word that Chile was going to take such action reached the State Department last Thursday. Last minute attempts were made to persuade the Chileans to wait a little longer.

But our ambassador in Santiago, Claude G. Bowers, could not be reached. He was in the country. So the attempt failed. Bowers' effectiveness in Chile has been impaired by the fact that while he spent six years as ambassador to Spain and now four years as representative to Spanish-speaking Chile, he has never learned Spanish.

Washington Acts

Chile's friendly message of recognition to the Farrell regime made action by Washington necessary. Acting Secretary of State Edward Stettinius, Jr., issued a statement withholding recognition because the Farrell government has come into power with the aid of interests inimical to the United Nations.

We waited a long time. We let Argentina get away with a great deal of shadow-boxing. General Ramirez, who preceded General Farrell, broke relations with the Axis, but this gesture meant little or nothing.

Axis agents—both secret and diplomatic—continued to operate out of Buenos Aires. They continued to carry on their efforts to get United Nations ships sunk and to prevent Britain and America from getting vital supplies out of South America.

A curious fact has come to light. One of the most important practical reasons for continuing to play ball with Argentina was that the British needed Argentine beef. Now the combined food board has taken another look at the statistics and finds there are substantial reserves of meat. The need for beef should no longer be a decisive factor.

Perhaps if we had acted earlier and more decisively Chile would not have split away. Now Uruguay and Paraguay may follow Chile's lead. Venezuela and Colombia are uncertain. For South Americans as well as for North Americans here at home the timid State Department line has been difficult to follow.

Tough Dilemma

We were faced, of course, with a tough dilemma. We had to have certain vital materials from South America and we wanted certain strategic bases.

Spending millions of dollars, we upset the economies of several of these countries. A few people made money. For the majority, however, it meant higher prices for the necessities of life.

When I was in South America last fall, I felt the honeymoon was definitely over. There was a mounting resentment against us. We would find it difficult from now on to hold our own. Some of this was inevitable, some of it could have been avoided, in my opinion.

Bolivia is a case in point. We bought tin from Bolivia's big mine owners who pay the Indians who work in their mines less than a subsistence wage. I think we could have put enough pressure on the government and the mine owners to have made some slight change in the living conditions of those miners.

We didn't do it. A year ago 19 men were shot and killed as a result of a strike. We seemed to be allied with the government and the mine owners responsible for that massacre. It was easy for Axis propaganda to play up the colossus of the north as the villain.

Partly the fault lay with the inexperience of our ambassador, Pierre Boal. He spent a great deal of time resisting the efforts of Vice President Wallace and Milo Perkins, through the now defunct Board of Economic Warfare, to get labor clauses into the contracts for Bolivian tin.

In our own policy we showed a split personality to the Latin-Americans. That is one reason for the crack that is developing in the good neighbor edifice. How far it will extend no one can say.

The Parent Problem

By GARY C. MYERS, Ph. D.

WAR CONDITIONS HARD ON TEACHERS

Most children at school are handicapped because of the war. Of course, many carry with them to school the fears, anxieties, worries, sorrows and other hammering emotions from home. Day by day there are fewer serene homes, fewer with smiles and laughter, games, creative play and other wholesome family fun. (My bulletin, "The Nervous Mother," may be had for postage in the usual way.)

Wonderful when children from homes which lack emotional security and best family enjoyment go to a school where such wants are supplied. Still more wonderful when these children find most favorable emotional atmosphere both at home and school.

School Less Secure

Many of the same factors which render the home less satisfactory emotionally now operate to make the school also less secure. Many teachers of our children have loved ones in the service. Some also are deeply affected emotionally over the boys they used to have in school. Ever so many of these teachers write scores of letters every week to their

Great Game Of Politics

Cost Of A Candidacy

Washington, March 9. IT IS OF COURSE, deplorable that with the war reaching its climax and every ounce of our national strength needed to achieve victory we should have to have a Presidential election this year. This means that for the eight perilous months stretching ahead politics and partisanship will increasingly saturate both the executive and legislative branches of the Government.

IT MEANS, too, that the people generally will be diverted from the big thing to the lesser things: it means that bitterness and strife will affect our sense of values; it means that the full national weight will not be used as it should be used. Many things that should be done will not be done and quite as many which should not be done will be done. Yet the campaign and the election are inevitable.

THOUGHTFUL men, including some high up in the armed services, are disturbed over the prospect. It is, they think unfortunate to have a campaign coincide with the most vital period of the war but it is particularly unfortunate to have the Commander in Chief a candidate for reelection in that campaign. The reasons are clear.

First families will suffer. Their money is in metropolitan real estate and people won't huddle so much after the bombing ends.

Paroled Prisoners May Be Sent Into Armed Services

HARRISBURG, March 9.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania board of parole recommended today the adoption of a "scientific" program for transferring paroled prisoners into the armed services from the state's penal institutions.

Major Henry C. Hill, chairman said that in the state's prison population of approximately 10,000 "there is believed to be a potential reservoir of at least 750 men of military age and sufficient physical and mental capacity to make good soldiers." He disclosed that 1,304 men had been released to the army from state and county prisons.

Following a conference of penal officials and representatives of state selective service headquarters, Hill said it had been decided not to adopt "a general policy of opening the gates of prison to men for the purpose of imposing them upon the armed forces" without consideration of their suitability.

"It is, however, the belief of the board that a program of gradual scientific release can and should be formulated so that those men who are fit for military service may be transferred from places of incarceration to the armed forces within the next 12 months," Hill declared.

He said the number of Pennsylvania parolees now in the armed services was small when compared to a report to congress March 3 by Brig. Gen. Russell B. Reynolds, director of military personnel, revealing that more than 100,000 men were now in the armed forces who had been convicted of felonies.

TRENTON, N. J., March 9.—(INS)—Compulsory inspection requirements for New Jersey automobiles go into effect today by order of Arthur W. Magee, State Motor Vehicle commissioner, in order to relieve strain caused by the war.

State inspection stations have been instructed to confine future inspections to brakes, lights, steering mechanism, horn and vision equipment. Minor defects will be called to the attention of the motorists but will not cause rejection or the duration of the war.

iciency supply bill reported by the House Appropriations Committee.

The necessity for calling more than two men for every one actually inducted, it was explained by Colonel Joseph B. Mitchell, chief of the Selective Service finance and supply division, results from the increased rate of rejections as fathers and older men are called, plus an additional loss of five per cent through reclassification of men status after they have been given their physical examination.

TRAVEL

People go a long distance in a short time nowadays. Diseases vary in different parts of our country and in different parts of the world.

When a disease is imported into a region where it is a stranger, it is usually much more severe than in its home town.

Measles is a rather mild disease here but when imported into a country where it has never been known, it is worse than smallpox.

Our soldiers are protected in every possible way from diseases in foreign lands where they are located.

In spite of all precautions they will perhaps bring back some of these diseases.

We must be on the alert to guard against these strange infections.

LOANS TO PAY INCOME TAXES

A message to the person who has been unable to save sufficient money to pay his income taxes on March 15

EVERYONE should pay income taxes out of savings or current income if possible. But you may not have been able to save up enough to make all your payments due March 15. If you intend to get a loan to pay your taxes and repay later out of earnings, Household's plan can help you.

Put taxes on a monthly payment plan

You may borrow $25, $50, $100 or more quickly and simply and repay on the schedule that best fits your own situation. The wise policy is to borrow no more than you need—and to repay as rapidly as possible. If you have to make quarterly tax payments in 1944, the 3-payment plan will repay your loan by the time your next tax instalment is due. If you have to pay a tax on March 15 only, you may prefer to take somewhat longer to repay your taxes. With the choice of loan plans shown in the table below you can budget your taxes in almost any way you prefer.

All you do

Borrowing at Household Finance is a quick, simple transaction. Just tell us how much you need and how you wish to repay. We require no endorsers or enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it.

FREE—INCOME TAX GUIDE!

Nearly everyone must file a return on March 15. You may also have to make a payment if you have tax credits. This new guide tells how to make your tax return, how to argue your case. Ask for free copy. No obligation.

March Cold Wave Affects Industry

Western Pennsylvania Operations Are Curtailed Due To Natural Gas Situation

PITTSBURGH, March 9.—(INS)—Army Ordnance officers reported today that operations of 500 Western Pennsylvania plants, including about 175 engaged in war production, have been curtailed by a shortage of natural gas due to a severe March cold wave which has caused increased demand for fuel by home consumers.

In addition to the plants in Western Pennsylvania, the ordnance officers reported an additional 25 plants in West Virginia and Maryland were also affected.

"The situation is serious and won't get better until the weather gets warmer," the spokesman said. "Many operations, of course, are protected by standby equipment like coal, oil and other fuels."

"So far very little critical production has been lost. That's because the percentage of natural gas curtailment is greater than the percentage of actual production lost."

The mercury slumped to 11 above at the Allegheny County airport this morning. Fair weather is predicted, but temperatures tomorrow are expected to remain down around the 10-degree mark, Weatherman W. S. Brotzman reported.

DOG QUARANTINE

ERIE, Pa., March 9.—(INS)—A 100-day quarantine was placed in effect in Erie today after a total of 17 persons received treatment for dog bites.

A dog which bit 13 persons last Saturday was revealed to have rabies. Four more persons have been treated for bites since then.

Berlin Now Fears Russian Air Raids

NEW YORK, March 9.—(INS)—German propagandists today began a campaign to prepare dazed Berliners, already weary from day and night attacks by British and American warplanes, for new assaults upon the Nazi capital—this time by Red Army craft operating from the eastern front.

The British radio, heard by CBS, quoted a Nazi air commentator as warning bluntly that "the distance from Berlin to the eastern front at its nearest point is little more than from Berlin to Britain."

The situation is serious and won't get better until the weather gets warmer," the spokesman said. "Many operations, of course, are protected by standby equipment like coal, oil and other fuels."

"So far very little critical production has been lost. That's because the percentage of natural gas curtailment is greater than the percentage of actual production lost."

The mercury slumped to 11 above at the Allegheny County airport this morning. Fair weather is predicted, but temperatures tomorrow are expected to remain down around the 10-degree mark, Weatherman W. S. Brotzman reported.

MEXICO CITY, March 9.—(INS)

The Mexican air force had the promise today of President Manuel Avila Camacho that it would fly in combat theatres of the present war.

The Mexican president declared:

"Now that you have manifested your desire to go into the struggle, I must make known to you that I have felt intensely—even with impatience—a common eagerness to participate in the war, and consider as you all do that it is not just for only one group of nations to defend the Allied cause."

Bolt Tells How South America Has Aided In War Effort

Much Vital Material Has Been Supplied By Neighbors To South, Speaker Says

Some of the problems which must be solved to further our relationship with the South and Central American countries, and of the tremen-ous importance these countries are playin; in the war effort, since our supplies or supplies from the East Indies has been cut off, was told an interested audience in the Senior high school, Wednesday evening, by Don Bol, traveler and lecturer.

Mr. Bol, spoke under the auspices of the New Castle Rotary club in the first of a series of four talks which will be given by outstanding speakers in the institute of international understanding, which will continue each Wednesday evening through March.

South America, despite its vast extent has a population of but 125,000,000 persons of whom 100,000,000 are Indians, more interested in reverting to the civilization at the time of the Spanish conquistador than seeking to elevate themselves to the level of the white man.

He stated that Argentina was not pro-Axis as much as it was pro-Argentine. The Argentines, having become rich from the wealth of their lands, seek to be the colossus of South America, just as the United States is the colossus of North America, and feel that they should dictate the policies of South America.

Their religious center is Rome their cultural center Paris, and their financial center London, the speaker asserted. The bulk of their products during the war go to United Nations countries. They do not want to become an industrial nation because the feel that would lead to Democracy which the rich land-owners do not want.

South and Central America countries have been supplying the United Nations with food, vital metals needed in the production of steel alloys, tin, sugar, coconut oil, crude oil, rubber, nitrates, rope fiber quinine, and other medicinal plants much of which the country exported until competition was provided by the East Indies, the Philippines, and Malaya, through Dutch and British development.

Mr. Bolt expressed the opinion that we should cultivate and expand this trade after the war.

Big Diplomatic Battle Develops With Argentine

By KINGSBURY SMITH

WASHINGTON, March 9.—Latin American sources in Washington believed today that a diplomatic battle of the first magnitude is now under way between the United States government and the Argentine military regime, headed by acting President Edelmiro Farrell.

Pan American solidarity is considered to be at stake in this diplomatic struggle.

The arms group, which is now in control of the government in Buenos Aires, is believed to be trying to establish an Argentine-dominated bloc of military governments in South America with a view to restoring the position of Argentina as the leading power on that continent.

The Argentine government already has moved to set up an economic bloc by proposing customs union with neighboring countries.

Pro-Fascist Domination

In the belief that the Argentine military regime is dominated by pro-Fascist elements who are opposed to full cooperation with the Allied cause, the United States government is striving to prevent diplomatic recognition of that regime by the other Allied American governments.

Latin American circles in Washington are inclined to believe the Argentine military clique has won the first round in the current diplomatic struggle by getting Chile to recognize the Farrell regime as the legitimate government of Argentina. Bolivia quickly followed suit, and Paraguay is now reported to have told Argentina that cordial relations between the two countries will continue uninterrupted.

The State department was hoping to obtain complete unanimity among 18 other Allied American governments on a joint policy of non-recognition of the Farrell regime, but Chile's action upset the plans for a united front.

While profoundly disappointed in Chile's action, official Washington is now trying to prevent a wider breach in Pan-American solidarity by urging the other Latin American governments to withhold recognition of the new Argentine regime until that government takes effective action to cooperate wholeheartedly in the defense of the western hemisphere.

W.L.B. Will Hear Case Of 700,000 Steel Workers

Wage Increases In Excess Of Little Steel Formula Are Being Sought

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 9.—The War Labor Board stood ready today to hear the case of 700 thousand steel workers for wage increases in excess of the little steel formula despite contention of the industry that only Congress can change the stabilization yardstick.

Ultimately, the W.L.B. may have to reject the demands of the CIO's United Steel Workers Union for a 17-cents an hour raise on the same grounds, but it appeared certain to instruct its six-man steel panel to proceed with hearings on the merit of the case.

Discussions were resumed today to determine just what companies should be included in the dispute. The union contends that 128 companies are representative of "basic steel" while the industry advanced a lower figure.

The panel will make a report on procedure to the W.L.B. and await instruction before receiving evidence on the 14 demands laid before it by CIO President Phillip Murray's own union. Several hundred small steel casting firms and users of steel appealed for exclusion from the main case and separate consideration.

John A. Stephens, vice president of U. S. Steel, assailed the union's demand as "extortionate" and a "hazard" to the nation, asserting that the steel workers deliberately attacked the stabilization policy.

Murray criticized Stephens for a display of "bad faith" and "unwarranted attack" on the union.

The union proposes that each worker contribute $20 out of the anticipated wage increase, this sum to be met by the companies, toward a bonus for steel workers in the armed forces. Officials estimated some twenty-eight million dollars would thus be raised for a bonus of $140 for each of the 200 thousand former steel workers in service.

At the same time, Murray reaffirmed the CIO's no-strike pledge

HOW TO RUIN DRESSES AND LOSE FRIENDS

It's tragic how some girls lose their friends and ruin their dresses because of perspiration odor and stains. And there's no excuse for it! It's easy to save dresses, it's easy to save friends. Use Arrid, the new cream deodorant that helps keep your armpits dry and removes the odor from perspiration. Arrid is safe and dependable for these 5 reasons:

1. Does not irritate skin. Does not rot dresses or men's shirts.

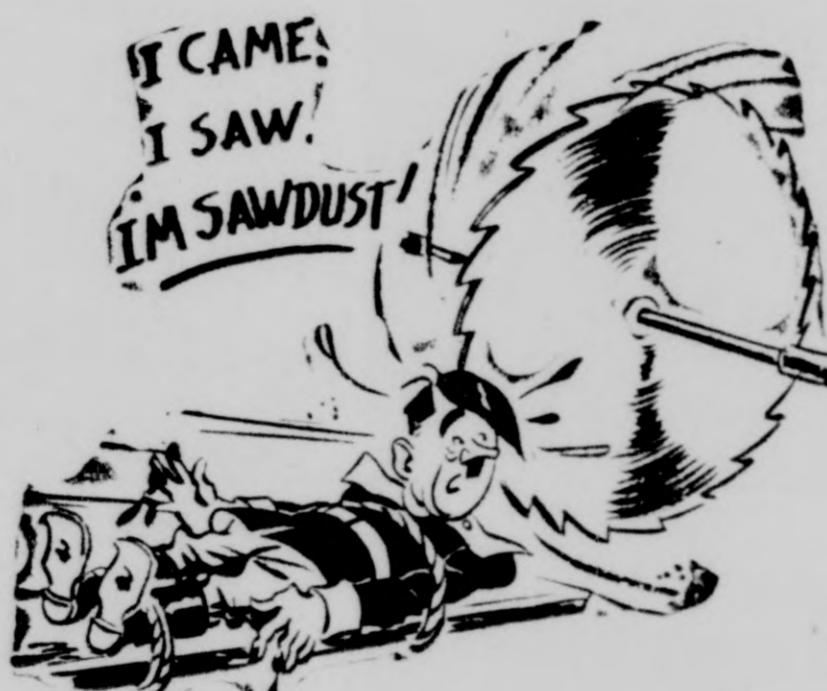

2. Prevents under-arm odor. Helps stop perspiration safely.

3. A pure white, antiseptic, stainless cream.

4. No waiting to dry. Can be used right after shaving.

5. Awarded Approval Seal of American Institute of Laundering—harmless to fabric. Use Arrid regularly.

Arrid is the largest selling deodorant. Sold at all stores selling toilet goods—10¢, 39¢ and 59¢ a jar.

Hitler's years of boasting himself hoarse are at last proving their worth! His references to the "decadent democracies" are pretty much exposed now. Democracies are proving that free people can do any job better than "political serfs" . . . Here in America we don't need laws with death-sentence teeth to get all of our war jobs done. Voluntary programs are successful, because we have the will to win. The National Conservation Program is proof of this.

WHAT ARE YOU DOING ABOUT CONSERVATION?

- Are you turning out lights in your home after you are through using them? Use enough light for health and safety, but don't waste.
- Have you eliminated ornamental lighting? The beauty of the home isn't nearly as sweet as "quick-victory."
- Do you turn on electric range units only when you are ready to use them and turn them off when you are finished? Is your refrigerator free from frost and kept at its most efficient operating condition?
- Are you careful not to over-work any of your electric appliances? Use them to save valuable time for other war work, but don't waste them by useless running.

These "conservation" reminders are brought to you as our part of the National Conservation Program. The electric industry together with the coal, oil, gas, water, transportation, and communication industries are united in this effort. . . . Of course, you can't save electricity in the same sense as you save and store other commodities, but when you use less it means that much coal and manpower and other critical materials are not consumed for its generation. Your saving together with millions of other users can be a substantial contribution to the war effort.

There is no power shortage and according to all foreseeable needs there will be none. Use all the electricity you need for safety, production, and health; but use it wisely. Although electricity isn't rationed, and you can get it as easily and cheaply as you did before the war, it is a crime to waste electricity or anything now.

Postwar Future Much In Minds Of Service Men

By JAMES POWERS
(N. S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, March 9.—Men in the front line trenches are thinking most these days—when they have the time—of what plans America is making for their postwar future, and they look to industrialists like Henry J. Kaiser for the answer.

So said Sgt. Jack Foise, an Army correspondent for the Mediterranean edition of Stars and Stripes, who recently returned to this country. In New York today before making a country-wide survey of the United States for Army newspapers, Foise said that Kaiser's name is one of the few, aside from the military, that have fired the imagination of the fighting men in this war.

"The other things the boys want to know is whether or not the folks at home realize their hardships at the front," the youthful veteran correspondent said.

"They wonder if the people over here are aware of their sacrifices and they are confused by stories that tell, on the one hand, of high living in the United States and, on the other, of extreme hardship."

To men who have been away from home for two years or longer, as have some in the Mediterranean theater, I'm going to try to give an accurate picture."

Foise, a native of Berkeley, Calif., who worked as a reporter for a San Francisco paper before entering the Army, said he would stay in this country only four months. If he stayed longer he revealed he might lose his close touch with the front and forget what the boys are interested in.

ASSESSMENT LOOMS AS JOB

The new assessment of Lawrence county properties is beginning to loom as a job that will require plenty of work not alone by the assessors but by the county commissioners. To all practical intent the job of assessing this year will be just as though the county was being assessed for the first time.

The old assessment books will not be available to the assessors. Each assessor, and there is one in every ward, township and boro in the county is required to assess each individual piece of property in his district. There are many forms to fill out in detail and the job will require some time.

A chief assessor is to be appointed and this promises to be a political job that will require some real work.

The commissioners have not yet appointed the chief assessor but have been giving the matter considerable attention.

STATE PAYS RENT

After some discussion over the matter the county commissioners have agreed with the Department of Public Assistance in the matter of rents to relief cases coming from the state, who live in county owned houses. Under the setup the recipient of relief will get his state allocation and then pay the county the rent.

TO TREAT WATER

At the meeting of the county commissioners Wednesday the board agreed to purchase 650 pounds of rust eradicator and 400 pounds of boiler compound for use at the County Home. For some time there has been no treatment of the water used at the home and some trouble developed in the boiler tubes.

take the benefit of rents which have been paid. The ruling came out of a request of a citizen to redeem a property which the county owned and upon which rents have been paid for some time.

Mr. McElwee said it was his opinion that the citizen would have to redeem the property for the taxes and costs involved without regard to the rents which had been paid. The provisions of the Act of 1935 can be applied which will save the property owner some money.

Abandoned Baby Dies Of Pneumonia

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 9.—(INS)—Baby John Capo ran out his slender thread of motherless, homeless life Wednesday, dying of pneumonia 39 days after he was left on the doorstep of Rosalia Foundling Home. He was less than two months old.

Baby John was abandoned a few hours after his mother was discharged from Belvedere hospital, Pittsburgh, where he was born. Police still are seeking the woman and a "mystery man" who visited her frequently in the hospital after the child's birth.

Until the baby's identity was established, Rosalia nuns who picked him up from a doormat on St. Peter's Day, on Friday had called him Matthew Peter Friday. The home had been waiting for the child to gain strength before considering many applications to adopt him.

FIRST STAGE OF INVASION UNDER WAY

By PIERRE J. HUSS

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, March 9.—Allied experts in London unanimously agreed that the cyclonic air war now under way against Nazi Germany has launched the first stage of invasion. Nazi Gen. Kurt Dietmar, official broadcaster for the German propaganda office, offered an identical conclusion, linking the unbroken Russian advance with scorching American daylight raids on Berlin as "the first act of invasion."

Propaganda Minister Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels attempted to offer bomb-battered Berliners some consolation by reporting the Allied invasion now has been delayed until May. But that was slight solace for the smoke-blackened people of Adolf Hitler's capital who have discovered that the dreaded Allied air arm with deadly fighter cover now is able to reach them day and night.

One Of Hundred Ships Being Lost On Soviet Route

WASHINGTON, March 9.—(INS)—Rear Admiral Emory S. Land, chairman of the War Shipping Administration, told the House Foreign Affairs Committee Wednesday that only one ship out of every hundred on the supply route to Russia is being sunk by enemy action.

Testifying at hearings on the continuation of the lend-lease, Land said that a year ago "we were losing by enemy action 12 out of every hundred ships supplying the Soviet Union."

The present lend-lease law expires on June 30.

Foreign Economic Administrator Leo T. Crowley told the committee that the United Kingdom, Australia, New Zealand and India spent more than two billion dollars for "reserve lend-lease" between June 1, 1942, and December 31, 1943.

Assistant Secretary of State Dean Acheson, warned that "the moment we begin taking action on the belief the war is to end we are taking our eye off the ball." He said shortening the time for completing lend-lease commitments would be "inadvisable."

Black Market Operators Will Meet Their Fate

PHILADELPHIA, March 9.—(INS)—Federal Judge Harry E. Kalodner predicted today that black market operators will meet the fate which ended the careers of "big shot" racketeers and bootleggers of the Volstead era.

"Black Market operators," Judge Kalodner said, "may get away with their price chiseling, but the Internal Revenue Bureau will catch up with them in the end."

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN

Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them, nature may be warning you that your kidneys are in trouble.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backache, rheumatism, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up pains, aches, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache, constipation. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning urination may be there something wrong with your kidneys and bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for a kidney pill. These are happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Dean's Pills.

FOOD CONSERVATION DRIVE IS UNDER WAY AT CAMP REYNOLDS

GREENVILLE, Pa., March 9.—As part of a continuing Food Conservation drive, Camp Reynolds mess halls are displaying the Army "C" and "K" rations to show the comparison between food served under combat conditions and the Army's garrison ration.

Latest innovation to provoke competition among soldiers in Camp Reynolds chow lines is a display of concentrated and dehydrated foods. The display includes dehydrated meat, potato shreds, carrots, cranberries, beets, peas, powdered milk, and other edibles. One display, however, evokes much mystery and amusement. It's an empty glass container which is labeled: "Dehydrated Water!"

Plan Awards For Can Collections

HARRISBURG, Mar. 9.—(INS)—In an effort to increase the collection of prepared tin cans by school children, the state salvage committee announced today that $50 and $25 war bonds will be awarded to the two pupils making the largest collection in March.

Chairman Warren R. Roberts disclosed that 1616 schools in 57 counties reported the collection of 6,716,097 prepared tin cans, as compared to collections of 8,630,025 cans by 1200 schools in 60 counties during January.

The Broughton school, near Wellsboro, won first honors in the state for a second time, it's 18 enrolled pupils collecting 11,862 cans. Luzerne County carried off top honors for collecting the greatest number of prepared cans, 73 schools salvaging 1,064,795.

Rickenbacker Is Against Fourth Term Proposal

NEW YORK, Mar. 9.—(INS)—Critics of Congress were described as "terminites" today by Capt. Edward V. Rickenbacker, who called for the election of a president who believes in states rights, and who will think in terms of "America first" in order that America will last."

Capt. Rickenbacker, addressing the Economic club of New York denounced those who would tear down the prestige of Congress. In outlining 15 qualifications he suggested for the next president, Rickenbacker, president of Eastern Air Lines, said that the chief executive should "not cater to or coddle minorities or pressure groups."

The World War I ace, indirectly voicing his disapproval of a fourth term, said "the only indispensable person in America is the American boy who dies needlessly in combat because of strikes and inexcusable failure on the home front."

Special attention is to be focused on questions pertaining to the licensing of handicapped drivers for motor vehicle operation.

Aluminum Workers Consider Wage Increase Demands

PITTSBURGH, March 9.—(INS)—

Aluminum Workers of America went into executive session today to consider further action after their demands for 15-cent-hour wage increases were rejected by the Aluminum Company of America.

"The wage rates in our plants," the company spokesman said, "are now well above the increases allowed by the 'Little Steel' (wage) formula and therefore the company cannot grant any further wage increases under the present wage stabilization plan."

Besides the wage-increase demand, the union is considering action on demands for a 95-cent-hour starting rate in all plants, guaranteed annual wages, sick leave, and a uniform wage rate in all Alcoa plants, including elimination of the differential between northern and southern plants.

A union request that any wage increase granted be retroactive to Jan. 20, 1944, meanwhile, was pending before the National War Labor Board.

Kiwanians Hear Red Cross Head

Miss Elizabeth Breslin, Executive Secretary of Chapter Here, Tells Of Work

TELLS HOW WAR STEPPED UP WORK

Just how tremendous the work of the Red Cross has become, due to the many duties added by the war, was told members of the New Castle Kiwanis club by Miss Elizabeth Breslin, executive secretary of the Lawrence county chapter, at their noon luncheon meeting Wednesday in The Castleton.

She told of the work being done at the front and in the rest areas by the Red Cross, much of which has been told before. In the rest homes, maintained on spots where the soldiers go on leave, lodgings are provided at a minimum cost for the men, which includes many comforts.

Great Services

The cost of procuring blood from donors to turn into plasma for the men at the fighting front is borne by the local chapters, where the blood banks are maintained. Approximately 4,100 pints of blood will be secured here this month, she stated. After it is processed, it is turned over to the army which transports it to the fighting front and administers it to the men who need it.

The material for the surgical dressings furnished our fighting forces is paid for by the army, but the cost of making the materials into dressings is borne by the chapters.

In addition to these two great services, the Red Cross has social workers in the hospitals, who assist the men with their problems, write letters for them, and do other services, besides helping the men with their claims and aids in rehabilitating them.

Most Done By Volunteers

Ninety per cent of the work of the chapter is done by volunteers, Miss Breslin stated, who put in 3,100 hours of service during the past year. This consisted of nurses aides, who help out in the hospitals, relieve the shortage caused by nurses entering the service. Through the Lawrence county chapter, which has charge of nurse recruiting for the armed forces in Lawrence, Beaver and Butler counties, 111 nurses were recruited last year.

In the county are 57 sewing units making garments for refugees and for local work. Five families were aided through this service here last year. Materials for knitted garments are furnished the chapter by the army but the cost of production is borne locally. These are given to men only with the approval of their commanding officer.

The canteen units of the local chapter help daily at the USO center, and have been distributing lunches to those giving their blood at the local blood bank.

Wherever a soldier goes, there you will find something from the Lawrence county chapter, or some other Red Cross chapter throughout the United States, Miss Breslin said in conclusion.

WIDOW TELLS OF FATAL SHOOTING

Tells Jury 'Everything Went Blank' Before She Allegedly Shot Husband

NORRISTOWN, Pa., March 9—(INS)—Mrs. Helen Wucherer, attractive 44-year-old widow accused of the fatal shooting of her husband, August, 51, today had told a jury in Norristown that "everything went blank" before she allegedly snuffed out her husband's life in their Erdheim home last October.

In a low, trembling voice she told the court how she had begged her husband not to leave her for another woman. When he refused to heed her, she seized a revolver she had hidden under her pillow with the intention of taking her own life, she related.

"The feeling inside me was killing me," she said. "I went into the living room and picked up the revolver intending to kill myself. Everything went blank and I saw an outline in front of me. That's all I remember."

The ash-faced blonde matron testified that she had been advised by several physicians to see a psychiatrist, but that she didn't do so because she feared she would be committed to a mental institution.

Earlier, Francis J. Mullin, a Norristown private detective hired by Mrs. Wucherer to trail the real estate broker, told the court he had accompanied her several times to the apartment of Mrs. Marion Johnson, 37-year-old Fort Washington divorcee.

"I saw Mr. Wucherer going from room to room in the apartment and I saw Mrs. Johnson lean over and kiss him," he testified.

Chaplin Faces New Appearance In Court Today

LOS ANGELES, March 9—(INS)—Loser in a battle to keep the red-haired Joan Barry's paternity suit against him from going to trial, Charlie Chaplin was to appear in court again today to ask that federal charges accusing him and six co-defendants of conspiracy to "railroad" his former protege from the state be quashed.

Superior Court Judge Stanley Mosk ordered Miss Barry's charge that Chaplin is the father of her infant daughter be heard by a jury. He denied the comedian's motion that the suit be dismissed on the basis of a blood test in which three physicians last month agreed that he could not be the baby's father.

Before the blood tests it had been agreed by Miss Barry and Chaplin that the paternity suit would be dropped if the blood tests showed Chaplin could not be the father.

"This court cannot, with clear conscience, approve the compromise of a minor's paternity claim based upon the outcome of tests which courts have repeatedly held are not conclusive, but merely evidentiary," Judge Mosk ruled.

Chaplin and his six co-defendants were to plead today to indictments charging they violated Miss Barry's civil rights 14 months ago. The charges are based on allegation the 24-year-old former protege of Chaplin was deported from California because she annoyed him.

Festival Will Be Marked By Religious School Program On Sunday Afternoon

Festival of Purim will be celebrated in synagogues and Jewish homes this week with special interest because the villain of the piece Haman of Persia, bears a resemblance to Hitler of Germany. Jews throughout the world will utter a prayer for the success of the Allied forces and for the repetition of the age-old miracle, the providential deliverance of civilization from rising tide of barbarism.

In the Book of Esther, read in synagogues on the eve of Purim March 8, and on the morning of March 9, it is recorded that Haman, the prime minister of Persia, planned the universal destruction of the Jews and the confiscation by him of their possessions. Haman's classic accusation—"There is a people in thy kingdom, and their laws are different; neither keep they the king's laws; therefore it profiteth not the king to suffer them"—has served every exponent of intolerance. The triumph of democracy implying the right to difference of opinion is the key-note of the modern celebration.

Transformation Seen At Tarawa

Correspondent Tells Of Conditions Now Found At Scene Of Bloody Battle

By PHILIP G. REED

(I.N.S. Staff Correspondent)

TARAWA, Feb. 27.—(Delayed)—It is hard to believe today that this stoll was the site of the bloodiest fight in the Pacific just three months ago.

Today it is a booming war center that spreads over three islands with almost all the comforts of home and a few you can't find at home.

I flew into Tarawa one bright Sunday morning after a trip of several hundred miles from another central Pacific base. The trip was uneventful but not without its surprises, especially our pilot's nonchalant route directly over Milne.

The once-powerful Japanese base, now slowly strating in the center of an iron clad American blockade of the Eastern Marshalls, stood out in clear detail from the porthole windows of our transport.

The vivid white coral airstrip plainly showed unfilled craters from steady U. S. bombing. The estimated garrison of several thousand Japanese might as well already be dead for all the opposition or signs of life that could be seen through binoculars. Not a thing stirred.

Not long afterward we skinned into an immense airfield. Lined up on each side were warplanes of every description.

Mullin Field

This I was informed was Mullin Field, named for the admiral in command of the ill-fated Liscombe bay.

The sun-helmeted operations officer for the Central Pacific combat air transport service, Lt. Patrick J. Reidy, a marine from Detroit, Mich., took the passengers in tow.

We were an assortment of correspondents, sailors and soldiers.

Hunger? We piled in a jeep and were taxied to the mess tent equipped with big modern electric refrigerators, gasoline ranges, tin stoves and shining work boards. The sergeant in charge dropped his preparation of the midday meal and in short order spread out a heaping pile of turkey sandwiches, fresh from the can.

Hot, dirty, tired? Lieut. Reidy led us along palm-shaded, coral footpath to a seaside grove sprinkled with tents that had screen walls and wooden floors. Beside deeply mattress iron spring cots the furniture consisted of a white metal wardrobe and adjustable canvas lounging chairs. The electric light switch was by the door.

Shower Bath

The sea breeze blew cool over a wide coral shell that was flooded into a shoulder high swimming area at high tides. Back of the tent was a ten foot platform crowned by four oil drums. We stripped, stepped underneath and pulled a string that turned on a refreshing shower.

Thirsty? We walked through a hundred yard lane of tents to a quonset hut transformed by the seabees into a cocktail lounge that made me gape.

Tarawa-made Adirondack chairs are scattered over the waxed red linoleum. A nautical note is provided by a set of life preservers on the walls effectively set off in a framework of knotted ropes. There is a tennis court on the landward side of the remodeled quonset.

Hungry again? We trooped into a sand carpeted messhall, screened but open to the sea. We ate from plastic plates. The food was good and what should have been hot was hot and the glasses clinked with ice cubes. We had ice cream for dessert. Midway in the meal I gaped. Live white women and pretty ones, in sun colored blouses open at the neck. Our hosts smiled tolerantly.

"Oh yes," they explained, "they are army air evacuation nurses."

After dinner we had our choice. One of four movies on the island, a game of pool in the recreation tent—and it is a full-sized Brunswick-Balk-Calender table—a trip of amphibious jeep through the shallow flats to one of the other islands and a sight seeing tour to one of the native villages. Or we could just sit and watch the planes go by.

We chose the latter.

Hunt Perpetrator Of Falsh Search For Tanker On Lake

AT TRADE SCHOOL

George Sweeney, age 61 years, of 1227 Huron avenue, an instructor at Ben Franklin trade school, badly injured his left hand at the school Wednesday evening, which necessitated the amputation of two fingers, in the New Castle hospital, at 9:45 o'clock.

According to hospital attaches, Mr. Sweeney's condition is fair this morning.

The perpetrator of the supposed hoax, who identified himself "Col. Jones of the civil air patrol" telephoned to the Great Lakes Naval Training Station at 6:35 p. m. yesterday.

He reported that a tanker was in trouble and that some of its crew had abandoned ship about 30 miles east of the naval training station.

Coast guard patrols in ports from Chicago to Milwaukee were ordered to the area.

A checkup revealed there are no colonels in the CAP in Illinois and that no CAP planes were in the air yesterday because of high winds.

Potters Clinch Crown By Battling Aluminum, 41-21; Rads Jar Engineers, 35-28

Field goal flingers flaunting the colors of Shenango Pottery and Johnson Bronze soon will meet in the 1943-44 Industrial Basketball league championship series.

The rangy and versatile Potters earned the right to play the first half kings last night on Y. M. C. A. floor by routing the Aluminum Works 41-21. The clincher netted the Shenango athletes their ninth consecutive second half triumph. Johnson Bronze trails by two games.

Shenango moved ahead early in the fray and soon was headed for victory. At halftime, the Potters held a 19-10 advantage.

Davis, Hughes and Horney featured for the winners with 26 points. Covelli highlighted the Alcoa's attack.

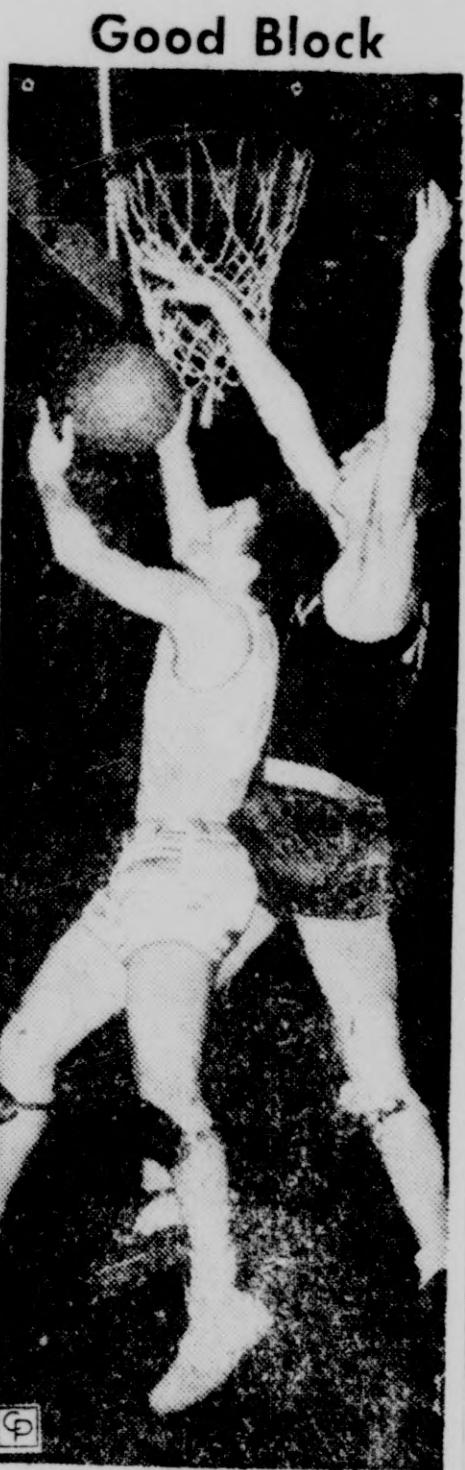

Rads Jar U. E. F.

In the first Indus fray, the National Radiators pulled a mild upset by defeating United Engineering, 35-28. At haltime the Rads held the upper hand, 18-9. Fredricks potted 17 markers to lead the winners while Miller's 12 points proved the top feat for the U. E. F.

Powerful Epworth Methodist continued to flash too much strength in the church loop, this time wallop Central Presbyterian, 55-34, for its 19th consecutive league success.

ATLANTA, Ga., March 9.—(INS)—Jim Bagby, Jr., 27-year-old pitcher for the Cleveland Indians, today awaited word from his application for service with the U. S. merchant marine.

Bazby, who won 17 games and lost 14 for the Indians last season, requested Cleveland officials to place him on the voluntary retired list for the duration.

Bagby has returned two unsigned contracts to the Cleveland business office. He said both contracts failed to call for an increase in salary.

Mack Scores Comeback Talk

Connie Says Baseball Doesn't Want Or Need Old Timers To Survive

By LAWTON CARVER (International News Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Mar. 9.—Baseball has never been burdened with a more maudlin and ridiculous chunk of publicity than the one spread over the last few weeks having to do with the eagerness of old-timers to preserve the fine traditions by making comebacks. Baseball needs many things but among them is not the spectacle of a gang of portly old business men getting hit in the head by fly balls merely because there was a time when they were Athletes.

It might be impolite to dismiss these elderly gentlemen so gruffly, yet the Speakers and the Cobbs and the Ruths must know, even while some of them blab of comebacks, that they haven't got a chance.

In this connection, Connie Mack, the 81-year-old manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, said:

"We don't need them or want them and I doubt if any of them actually want to come back."

Can Get Along

Mr. Mack added realistically that baseball can keep going with its 4-F's and if needs be will fill in with 14 or 15-year-olds rather than go into the archives for talent. If baseball ever gets to the point where the 50-year-old former stars are needed they should and must call the game off for the duration. Moreover, they probably will.

As Mr. Mack points out, when a ball player reaches the age of 35 or 40 and stays away from the game a season it is almost impossible for him to regain his strike, even such a stride as he may have at that late day.

The A's manager said that he saw some of these old-timers in an exhibition game a few years ago and felt sorry for them. The greatest of former Athletes can't have the coordination of youth at 50—so why make mugs out of them and out of the fans?

Or that is what Mr. Mack seems to be asking.

Two Blind Wrestlers In Eastern Tourney

Penn State's Chuck Hale And Penn's Fred Barkovich Loom As Real Threats

BETHLEHEM, Pa., March 9.—(INS)—Two blind wrestlers will be bidding for mat honors when the eastern intercollegiate wrestling championships are held at Lehigh University Friday and Saturday.

Fred Barkovich, of the University of Pennsylvania, loomed as a real threat for first-honors in the 136 pound class. At last year's championship tourney the New York City boy won third place in this division and was rated considerably improved this year. In dual meet competition last year he went undefeated in eight bouts and this year lost only one scrap. In the meet with Navy he stepped ahead two weight classes and was beaten by Hale at 135 pounds.

Chuck Hale, of Pennsylvania State College will be realizing a long-held ambition when he goes to the mat Friday for his first try at a championship. In dual competition this year he won over his Muhlenberg opponent and lost at Lehigh, Cornell and Navy. Almost totally blind, Hale has to be led to the mat and relies chiefly on his sense of hearing during a bout. He comes from East Springfield, near Erie.

Both wrestlers are graduates of the Overbrook school for the blind, Philadelphia.

Field Goal Kicking Discarded By Pros

Chicago Cards Win Honors With Two Successful Three-Pointers

CHICAGO, March 9.—(INS)—Field goal kicking was a lost art in the National Football League last year, statistics revealed today. It took the doorman of the league, the Chicago Cardinals, to annex the title in that department on the strength of two successful three-pointers.

Don Hutson of the Green Bay Packers won the individual crown with three field goals out of five attempts. The Packers made one other field goal good but they made 15 attempts for a 267 percentage. The Cards' two came from five attempts for a 400 percentage. The New York Giants with three and the Chicago Bears with two more second and third.

Ward Cuff of the New York Giants also kicked three field goals to tie Hutson, but his percentage was lower because he missed on six tries. Cuff also booted the longest field goal, a 45-yard effort against the Cardinals on Nov. 21.

One-Armed Tackle On Florida Squad

GAINESVILLE, Fla., March 9.—(INS)—Tom Lieb today began serious efforts to mold a football team out of the 25 candidates who reported to the University grid coach for the first workout of spring practice.

Coach Lieb stated that "15 never had a uniform on before, one of them is a one-armed tackle, and the other 24 are 4-F's".

"LITTLE POISON," OUT OF BASEBALL IN '43, PLANS COMEBACK THIS YEAR

By Central Press

"Little Poison" is planning a comeback in the major leagues this year. "Little Poison" is Lloyd Waner, younger of two baseball-playing Waner brothers of Pittsburgh Pirate fame.

Lloyd was out of baseball last year after 16 years in the big time. He is 37.

Now the property of the Brooklyn Dodgers, Lloyd should be able to find a place in major league baseball this season, inasmuch as so many players are needed to fill the depleted ranks.

At present the long-time Pirate outfielder is employed at the Curtiss-Wright airplane plant in Oklahoma City and also supervises work on his father's farm. Married and the father of two children, Lloyd will be 38 and out of the draft age on March 16.

Born at Harrah, Okla., in 1906, Lloyd began playing ball with the San Francisco team of the Pacific Coast league in 1925 after attending East Central State Teachers' college at Ada, Okla., for two and one-half years.

He spent one year with Columbia, in the South Atlantic league, and then joined the Pirates. He remained with the Pirates until 1941 when he was traded several

Falls Five Wins; Oakmont Defeated

Tigers Nip Brentwood, 43-39, While Eagleson's Five Losses 66-44 Decision

Lanky Beaver Falls, carrying the Section 3 colors into the WPIAL tournament, reached the final round last night on Pitt stadium floor by moving past a stout Brentwood aggregation from Section 8, 43-39.

In the B setto, Coach John Eagleson's hopes of winning a second consecutive crown ended with Clark wallowing Oakmont, 66-44.

The Falls athletes, playing minus Harr, who is ill, grabbed the lead in the first two periods but the Brenters rallied to tie the count. With three minutes left, the Falls quenched a 38-38 tie with five points.

Eagleson's Oakmont boys were victims of a long range attack which was unusually accurate. Realizing that the Oaks' zone is a match for any club, the Clark boys decided to fire from far out. The attack misfired and left the Oaks trailing at 33-23 at haltime and 51-34 at the three gone mark.

Beaver Falls faces Duquesne for the A title Saturday night while the Clarkers tackle Aviation next Tuesday. Both games will be played on Pitt floor.

Michigan Favored To Keep Track Title

Big Ten Meet Carded In Chicago Fieldhouse On Saturday

CHICAGO, March 9.—(INS)—Despite the loss of several topnotch performers in military shifts, unbeaten Michigan was a formidable favorite today to retain the Big Ten indoor track title in the University of Chicago Fieldhouse Saturday.

The almost assured Michigan victory will complete for the Wolverines probably the greatest decade of domination over a major sport the conference has known. For 10 years Michigan won eight indoor track titles, finished second once and fourth once.

Only Illinois, defeated last week by Michigan, 66-37, was given a pre-meet chance of finishing close to the favorites.

Because of wartime exigencies, this year's meet will be a one-day affair.

Zurita Upsets Sammy Angott

Mexico Acclaims Its First Boxing Champ; 15,000 See Major Reversal

HOLLYWOOD, March 9.—(INS)—Mexico acclaimed its first world boxing champion today in the person of Juan Zurita, who last night at the Hollywood ball park decisioned Sammy Angott out of his NBA lightweight crown in a terrific upset before 15,000 fans.

Going into the contest on the short end of as much as 1-7 odds, Zurita looked his best as he coolly paced himself over the 15-round path to victory and put up a switch style defensive that Angott couldn't penetrate.

Zurita was off to a big lead during the opening rounds and failed to show signs of fatigue toward the end as Angott's supporters had figured he would. From the 12th round on, with Angott failing to rally, the chant got louder and louder from the audience—"It's going to be a new champ!"

Angott Misses Often

Zurita danced nimbly away from Angott's leads throughout the fight, dropped lefts to the stomach and hard rights to the head and made Angott miss plenty.

All of Angott's ring strategy was wasted on the Mexican, who didn't change expression once during the fight.

Angott was not at his best and although he offered no alibi he said he had to sweat and rub off three pounds yesterday morning to scale 135, just within the required limit. Zurita weighed 133.

Promoter Joe Lynch was promised that a game has been scheduled with the American Welders to be staged at Warren, O. March 16. In the first meeting of the teams Camp Reynolds came out victorious, 51 to 25.

How would you feel upon reaching the halfway mark of a book that had both your interest and anxiety locked like a safe, discover that the remaining pages were missing? Sounds off key, eh? Incredulous? Anyhow, I know the soldier who can supply the stamp of authenticity to the latest incident brought to the surface by the current muddle. The "G. I." Joe, however, won't be in a position to corroborate my piece, for a while at least. You see he's busy somewhere in Italy . . .

The odd occurrence goes back to last December when a father decided to surprise his son with a gift the young man would treasure and enjoy—New Castle's high football history book. The dad rushed off to the postoffice and met a stumbling block when the clerk informed him that such a package was over the weight limit for overseas delivery and couldn't be accepted unless reduced to specifications. So, undaunted, the sender did the next best thing. He split the book and mailed it in two packages . . .

Recently, Sgt. Lloyd Harris, in a letter to his father, Harry G., of Wallace avenue, miniced no words in explaining the invaluable qualities of the tome, especially when the boys gathered round to argue about scholastic football, and of the great enjoyment derived while perusing the booklet. "You couldn't have sent me a more valuable gift, since you know how daffy I am about New Castle high football," the "sarge" wrote, "but I'm a bit puzzled. I received and finished the first half (several times) a long time ago. Where's the other half?" Senior Harris explained in a letter later. The "sarge" still is in waiting . . .

Wee short stories:—Joe Baksi, who leaped into the fistic spotlight a few weeks ago, says his name is pronounced "Baksee" . . . At least 12 of the 143 Kentucky Derby nominees bear war names. Some of them are: Peace Bells, Alamein, Bomb Sight, Smolensko, General War and Free France. . . Not counting last night's two games, the current WPIAL tourney has lured about 35,000 fans, the gas shortage, travel hardships etc., notwithstanding . . .

Back from the war zones, Jack Sharkey, the ex-heavyweight, has sold his Boston bar and is available for assignments as referee.

He performed quite well overseas .

East Mitt Classic At State Saturday

STATE COLLEGE, Pa.—March 9.—(INS)—Five colleges were entered today in the 21st annual eastern intercollegiate boxing championships to be held Saturday at Pennsylvania State College.

Three full teams have been entered by Army, Coast Guard Academy of New London, Conn., and Penn State, providing a field of 29 for the 1944 championships. Only the colleges with eight entries each were expected to qualify for each.

Virginia is expected to be a serious contender for two individual titles with Jimmy Miraglotta, Charleston, W. Va., a heavy favorite in the 135-pound class, and Bob Finley, Free Union, Va., a good bet in the 155-pound class.

Syracuse's entries are virtual unknowns since none of the three has competed this year. The Orange boxers did not engage in dual competition this year. Syracuse, second only to Penn State in the number of tournaments won, copped its sixth teams title last year. Penn State has won seven championships.

Virginia's entry list underwent revision when the navy transferred six of its eight boxers to other stations, leaving Miraglotta, a pre-medical student and Finley, who is preparing for the ministry, the only members of the once-defeated Cavalier team still remaining on the Virginia campus.

Hopkins Students Claim Phils Lifted Nickname 'Jays'

PREXY CARPENTER SCOFFS AT PROTEST; SCHOOL WANTS 'SUITABLE SATISFACTION'

PHILADELPHIA, March 9.—(INS)—Bob Carpenter, Jr., youthful president of the Philadelphia Blue Jays, today scoffed at protests by students of Johns Hopkins university that the erstwhile-Philies had lifted the medics' nickname.

The Baltimore institution's newspaper and student council sent a resolution to the Phils demanding "suitable satisfaction" for bestowing their nickname, which they asserted had been university property for 68 years.

They termed the deed a "repulsive act which brought disgrace and dishonor to the good name of Johns Hopkins university."

Carpenter flew to the defense of his club in fighting Blue-Jay manner.

"Why they haven't won a ball game in 20 years, have they?" he declared of the university. "I saw their football team once and boy, what a ragged outfit!"

"But honestly, I have the greatest respect for Johns Hopkins," he added. "I'll write them a letter and explain that as I've always admired the Blue Jay and its scrappy qualities, we expect to do something for it, and incidentally, give Hopkins a hand by making the students proud of the name."

Girl Scouting
32 Years Old On Sunday, March 12

More Troop Leaders Needed,
Commissioner McAfee Says;
First Troop Here In 1927

Girl Scouts, who will be thirty-two years old on Sunday, March 12 are planning a nationwide observance of the day on which the first Girl Scout troop was organized in 1912 in Savannah, Ga., by Juliette Gordon Low.

"This will be the fourth wartime birthday in the history of Girl Scouting," Mrs. W. Keith McAfee, commissioner of New Castle Girl Scouts, explained. "The first wartime birthday was in 1918, when the Girl Scouts were very young—only six years old in fact. There were more than 12,000 Girl Scouts, all helping their country then, as present-day Scouts, nearly a million strong, are aiding the nation today."

Mrs. McAfee stated that the steady increase in national membership is reflected in New Castle where the first Girl Scout troop was organized in 1927 and 605 girls are now registered.

There is a waiting list of girls who want to be scouts, Mrs. McAfee said. "All they need to be admitted is the co-operation of more adults who will serve as leaders, advisers, and sponsors." She expressed the hope that many men and women will give the Girl Scouts a birthday present this year—of interest, help and encouragement.

"The many hours of service Girl Scouts here have given to local organizations during the past year, the hundreds of useful objects they have made, and the large amount of scrap metal, paper, waste fats etc., they have collected, by 6400 communities in which Girl Scouting exists, and it is easy to see how powerful a force these youngsters are when their energies are directed to worthwhile services."

Jesus Betrayed, Denied, Condemned
Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

"He was despised and rejected of men; a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief."—Isaiah 53:3.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL (The International Uniform Lesson for March 12 is Mark 14:10-15:20, the Golden Text being Isaiah 53:3. "He was despised and rejected of men; a man of sorrows and acquainted with grief.")

THE TRAGIC story of Jesus' last days on earth is the subject of our lesson today.

Two days before the Passover was to be celebrated, His enemies were planning how to get Jesus into custody. They said, however, "Not on the feast day, let there be an uproar of the people."

At this time Jesus was in Bethany, at the house of Simon the leper. As he sat at supper with His companions, a woman came in holding an alabaster box of precious ointment. She broke the box and poured the ointment over Jesus' head. Some of the company were indignant, saying the ointment could have been sold and the money given to the poor.

Jesus said, "Let her alone; why trouble her? She hath wrought a good work on me. For we have the poor with you always, and whenever ye will ye may do them good; but Me ye have not always."

Judas Goes to Chief Priests

Judas Iscariot went from this gathering to the chief priests, to arrange with them how he would betray his Master.

On the first day of unleavened bread, when they killed the passover, the disciples asked Jesus where they would eat the feast. Jesus told two to go into the city and there they would see a man carrying a pitcher of water on his head. They

He told them to watch and pray, "lest ye enter into temptation. The spirit is truly weak." Again He went away to pray, and again coming found them asleep. A third time He prayed, and became reconciled, and on rejoining the disciples, said to them, "Sleep on now, and take your rest; the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners."

Almost immediately the garden was filled with men armed with swords and staves, led by Judas who had said they were to take the man he should kiss. He went straight to Jesus, saying "Master, Master," and kissed Him, and the rest took Him into custody.

The Chief Priests were determined to destroy Him, so they hired false witnesses, who told how they had heard Him blaspheme, but they could not agree among themselves.

During the trial Peter followed Jesus and was in the same building, warming himself at the fire. A servant recognized him and said, "And thou wast also with Jesus of Nazareth." Peter denied it, and then he heard the cock crow. Three times he denied it, knowing Jesus, the last time with cursings and swearings. A second time he heard the cock crow and remembered that Jesus had said, "before the cock crow twice, thou shalt deny Me thrice."

After the trial before the chief priests, Jesus was taken and delivered to Pilate, the Roman governor. Pilate asked Him, "Art Thou the King of the Jews?" Jesus answered, "Thou sayest it," and would answer nothing more. Pilate could find no fault with Him and suggested that he release Jesus. At the feast of the passover it was customary for a prisoner to be released. The people, moved by the chief priests, said no; they would take instead Barabbas, a murderer.

"What shall I do unto Him whom ye call King of the Jews?" asked Pilate, and the shout went forth, "Crucify Him, crucify Him!" So Pilate, not being a strong man, let them take the Lord and lead Him away to abuse and death.
